Year 5 Week 8

Hello, North America! Here we are at the end of Term 5 in lock down. It has been a busy term even though we are working from home. It has been really great catching up with all of you and hearing your voices again. This week so many of you have been uploading pictures and adding to the class blog.

Thank you for keeping in touch and keeping me updated with some of the things you have been doing at home. I really appreciate all you are doing and am so proud of every single one of you.

The next week is half term. This break should be a time spent with your family and having lots of fun. With this in mind, this newsletter will contain suggestions as to some fun activities you can do over the holiday.

As well as Time Tables Rockstars and Purple Mash maths activities, you can go to the White Rose Maths Hub and access some of their 'Problem of the Day' resources. Select KS2/3 option from the link below:

Play 'Panagrams'

Players: Two or more

Players alternate in adding a letter to a word, to make an anagram of a new word.

The first player starts with a three-letter word. The next player tries to find a four-letter word by adding a letter and making an anagram of all the letters.

The players continue in this way, making longer and longer anagrams. The first player unable to make a word loses.

See an example:

Play 'Consequences'

Players: Two or more

The players take turns in contributing sentences to a story. The final story is then read out.

Each player starts with a piece of paper. The players each write a phrase as the first step in a story, and then fold the paper to hide the phrase before passing it to the next player.

The steps are as follows, where the things in brackets should be replaced by the chosen words or phrase:

(boy's name)	met (girl's name)	in/at/on (where they met).	He said (what he said)
She said (what she said) (what happened).	He (what he did)	She (what she did)	The consequence was

When the players have completed all eight steps, the pieces of paper are unfolded in turn, and the players read out the completed, usually funny, stories.

See how to start your story:

Reading

Head over to <https://www.worldofdavidwalliams.com/elevenses/>

Every day, David Walliams is reading an extract of one of his books that you can listen along to.

Here is a website offering a full range of fiction and non fiction for you to listen to. Check it out!

I would recommend the books from the Elementary section and, for a more challenging text, the tween section.

Build a birds' nest

Build your own birds' nest
– would your eggs be safe?

Could you build a nest strong enough to hold a clutch of eggs and withstand the wind?

You will need:

- Dried grasses
- Twigs
- Sticks
- Fallen leaves
- Old cobwebs

Build a birds' nest

Look for a tree with a fork in one of its lower branches.

1

2

Start building your nest. Remember, it needs to keep the eggs – and chicks! – safe. And it mustn't fall apart in the wind.

When you've finished building your nest, place several small stones or cones inside it. Can it take their weight without falling apart?

3

4

Give the branch a little shake – are your eggs safe inside the nest?

For an extra challenge, build it with one hand! Birds only have their beaks, after all.

Be a super spotter!
How many trees can you identify?

Alder

Beech

Oak

Sycamore

Birch

Holly

Elder

Ash

Horse Chestnut

Field Maple

Hawthorn

Hazel

Rowan

Found any other leaves? Do you know which trees they're from?

Morning

Ollie wakes up at 7.30 in his comfortable bed. After brushing his teeth he gets dressed into his school uniform. He then goes downstairs and has breakfast with his Mum his Dad has already left for work. His Mum offers him toast or cereal. When he's finished his breakfast he heads into the living room to watch tv until he has to leave for school. Ollie walks to school with his mum. Once he is at school his first lesson is Maths. Part way through the morning he has a break where he gets to play with his friends and have a snack. He then has more lessons until lunch time.

Charlie gets up at around 6am and has a small loaf of bread which he has to share with the rest of his family. He then heads down to the river with 2 of his older brothers. When he arrives the orphans are coming out of the sheds on the river bank where they sleep. They wade into the thick black mud and start work straight away, looking for items that they can sell for money.

Midday

As it was a sunny day, Ollie heads out for lunch in the playground and has his cheese and pickle sandwich. He sits on the bench with his friends and starts eating his lunch. When he finishes his lunch he takes his lunch box inside and goes out and plays tennis with his friends. Then the whistle goes and they all line up to come inside for the next lesson of the day.

As it was a sunny day, Charlie spends most of his time wading around in the river through the thick, sticky mud trying to find some copper or iron that he can sell. Sometimes he is lucky and finds a lot of material sometimes he finds nothing. So far today Charlie has found 2 pieces of iron and 1 piece of copper. Charlie sits down on the river bank and eats his lunch which is a small piece of cheese and a chunk of bread, which he had to share with his 2 brothers. He rests his legs and feet which are covered in this smelly tar like mud.

Afternoon

After lunch, Ollie has P.E. Ollie gets changed and lines up and heads outside. They are playing Dodgeball today and Ollie's team win. Ollie gets changed back into his school uniform and gets ready to go home. He grabs his bag and coat and lines up by the door. He heads outside with the class and heads home with his parents. Once he is home Ollie has a fruit bar for his snack. He then goes out in the garden until tea.

Charlie heads back to the river and starts his search again. He spends another 4 hours wading around in the mud then without warning the police turn up and Charlie climbs out the river and hides in the bush. Once the police have gone Charlie heads back into the mucky river and continues. In total he found 5 copper and 3 iron pieces. He heads to the street to sell his items. Charlie walks home with his brothers and gives the money to his parents.

Evening

After Ollie finishes his tea he helps with the dishes. He then goes in the living room and puts the tv on. Soon it is time for Ollie to have a shower and go to bed. He has a cup of warm milk before he goes to bed.

Charlie doesn't get home to his parents until late into the evening. Once he is home there is no food left for him to eat so he just goes hungry. He plays with some rocks before bed and then lies on the floor with his family with his feet and legs still dirty and smelly. He tries to go to sleep but as he has no blanket he is very cold during the night. Eventually in the end, he falls asleep.
